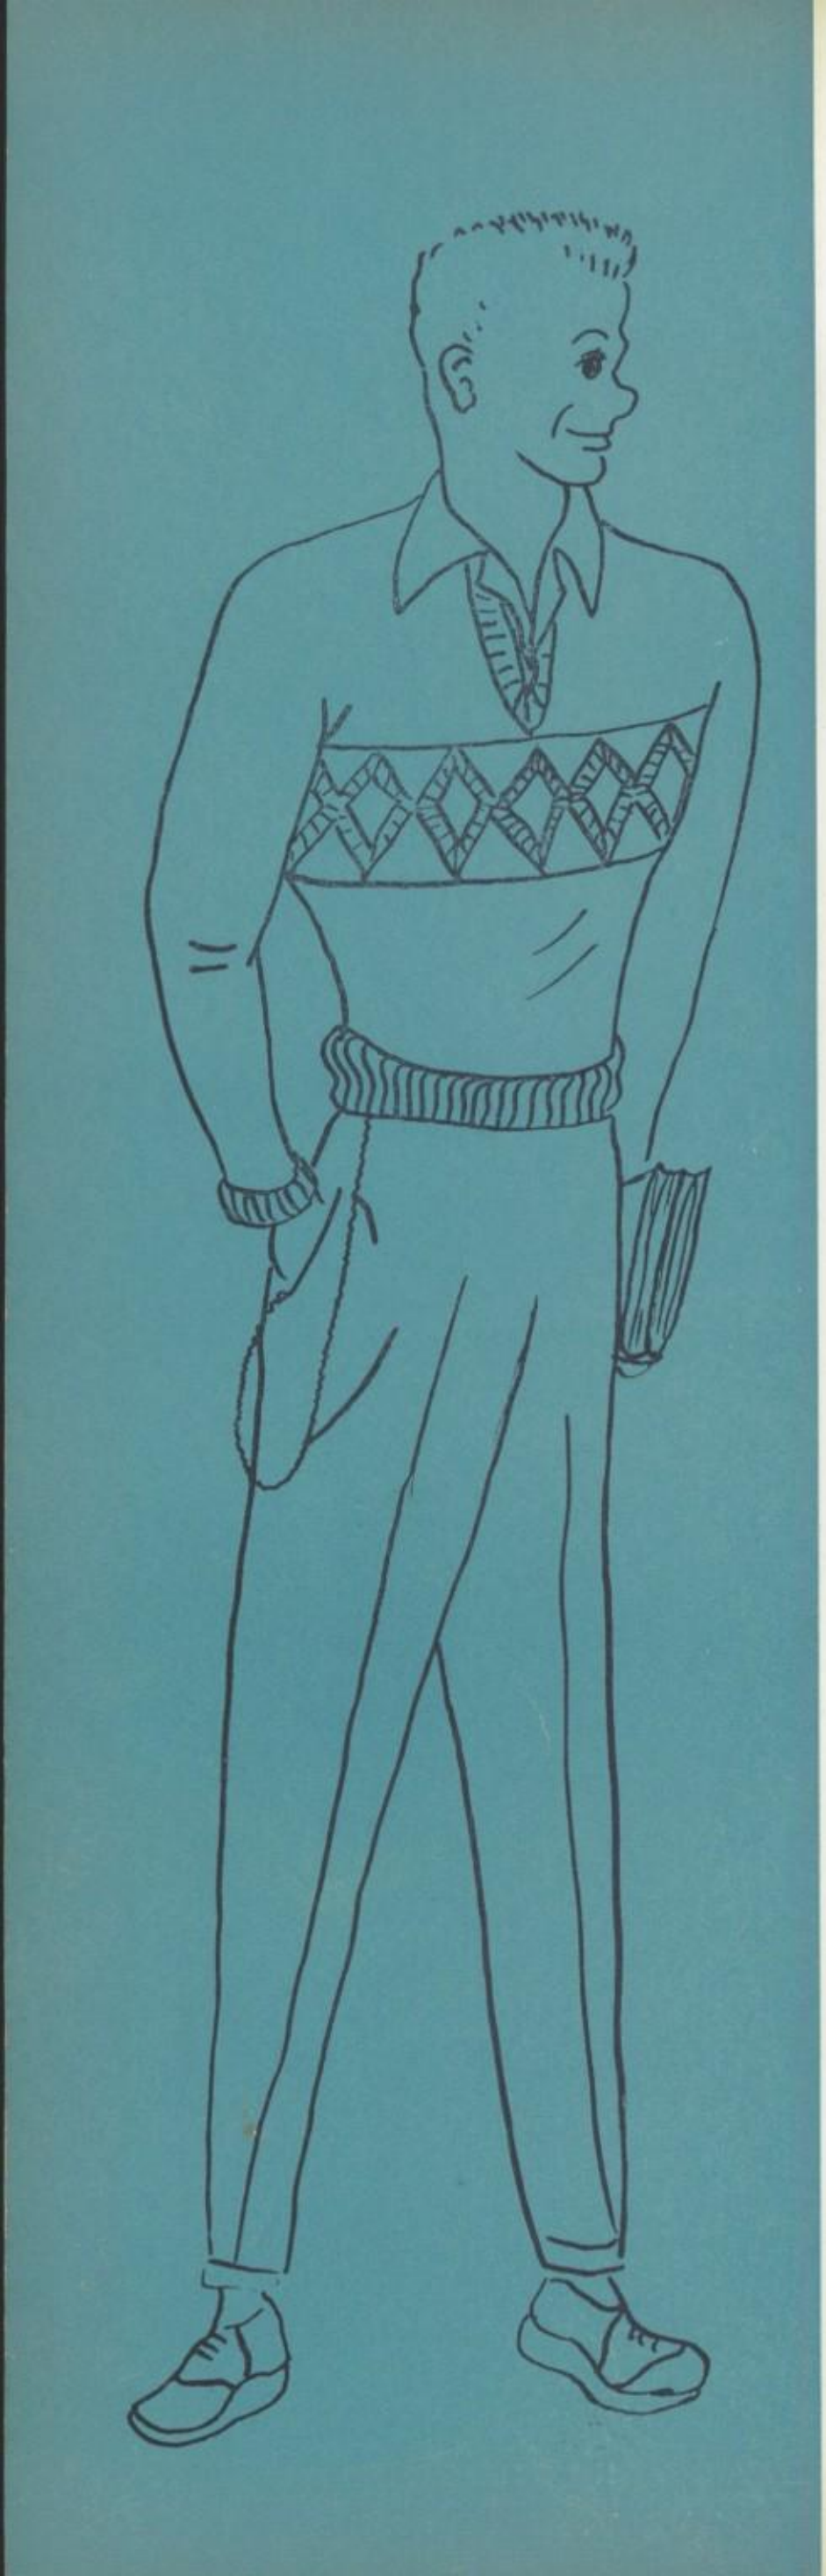
THE 1950 MISKODEED

MISHAWAKA HIGH SCHOOL
MISHAWAKA, INDIANA



Cyrano Reports His

THE BOYS . . .

The average Mishawaka High School boy is 5 feet 7¼ inches tall, weighs 143 pounds, and is 16 years old.

After spending $4.30 a week on tickets, gas, cokes, and that special box of candy for his girl, the average boy finds that the 6.76 pictures in his wallet fill more space than the dollars.

A job, 1.09 movies a week, and participation in 1.03 sports require him to spend 5.81 hours of study hall time on his lessons each week. At home 1.47 brothers and 1.40 sisters keep him from monopolizing the family desk.

He makes new friends by belonging to .85 school clubs and dating 2.9 times a month. To look sharp the average boy shaves 1.37 times a week and wears one of his 3.93 sweaters.

Statistics on . . .

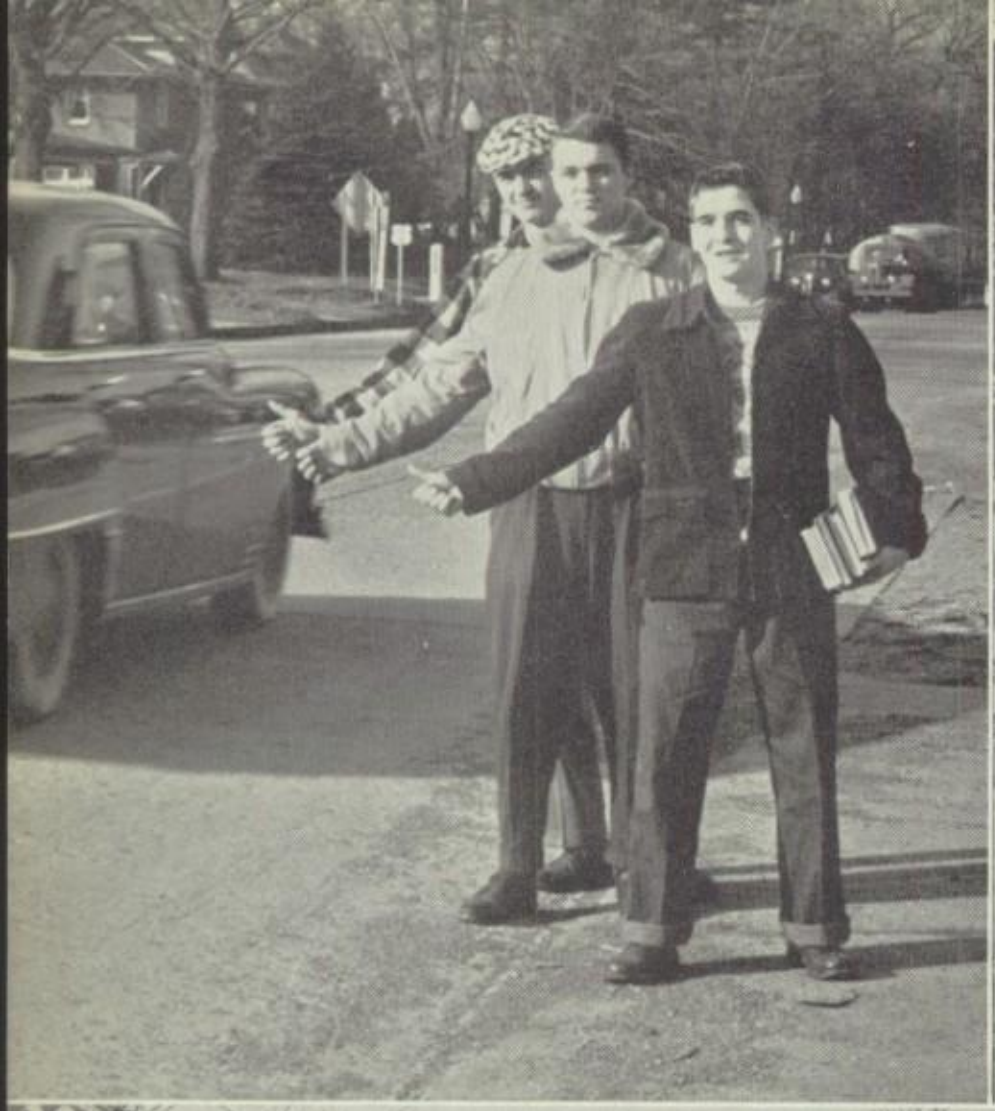
THE GIRLS . . .

The typical Mishawaka High School girl is 5 feet 2¼ inches tall, weighs 116 pounds, and is 16 years old.

She spends $4.75 a week on new records, .92 movies, and an occasional malt. With little extra cash for professional hair-dos, she puts up her hair 4.9 times a week to achieve her version of the short hair fads. By deft manipulation the average girl squeezes 13.1 photos of her school mates into her red bill-fold.

Her 1.49 brothers and 1.65 sisters force her to share the telephone and newspaper. On 6.04 dates a month, she often wears one of her 7.12 sweaters.

As a member of 1.97 school clubs, the average girl dashes around with an air of importance.



Thumbs, Busses, Cars Provide Transportation

City busses provided transportation to school for 33.8 per cent of the students; county busses conveyed 21.34 per cent. A large group, 14.8 per cent, drove to their studies; but a hardy 25.8 per cent walked; 4.26 depended on thumbing a ride.

Wiggly Freshmen Half Hear Weekly Bulletin

The weekly bulletin, attracting the attention of some students in Miss Grey's sponsor room, is a vital cog in the smooth operation of Mishawaka High School. The first semester bulletins included nine dances and six parties as well as twenty-nine ways to spend money such as concert and dance tickets, subscriptions, book covers, and basketball pencils. Club meetings, play rehearsals, and committee meetings convened in the auditorium 149 times. The gymnasium and gym balcony were used 32 and 6 times, respectively. The 22 reserve and 11 freshman sports contests during the first semester received equal billing with the 27 varsity contests on the weekly bulletin.

Talent Show Tops

The amateur must center the clay on the potter's wheel or the side of the bowl will be torn off by centrifugal force. This does not perturb Richard Schock, who operates the machine skillfully. To mold a clay gorilla or a polar bear the average art student spends two weeks of concentrated effort to complete this fascinating work.

In Classes Like Art It's Fun to Learn

Pots and Pans

Don Leffel, slicing the beef roast with chef-like skill, and Danny Van Kirk obtain school credit for their work in the cafeteria. Five full-time women workers and twenty students shoulder the responsibility of feeding five hundred people daily. Among this group 175 buy plate lunches, while 175 buy milk and one other item to supplement a lunch brought from home.

Film and Screen

Science Club members watch one of 111 films ordered by the audio-visual department. Ordering 27 and 25 respectively, the guidance and social studies departments used the film method of teaching extensively.

Iodine and Gauze

During the first semester of 1949-50 Mrs. Gladys Conant, school nurse, administered 770 group vision tests, 765 group hearing tests, 445 physical exams, and 397 tuberculin tests. After caring for 132 illnesses and inspecting 123 others, Mrs. Conant still had to spend 83½ hours on clerical work the first 18 weeks of the year.

Books, Maps, and Plants

Through eighty-two magazine and five newspaper subscription students keep up with the current news and past events. Among six thousand books in the school library are five sets of encyclopedias and Gayley's "Classic Myths," the first book to be circulated here. Daily circulation averages 150 with one-half this number being fiction books. "Seventeenth Summer" by Maureen Daly is the favorite of M.H.S. girls, whereas the boys prefer the thrill-packed stories of John R. Tunis and Stephen W. Meader.

Family Pleasures And Obligations

The family plays an important part in a student's life. Although the average student spends 4.39 hours studying at home, not all receive parental aid like Cecile Swadener (upper left). Veryl Stamm, football hero, (upper right) helps Mother by doing the dishes. Joan Hoorinks and Janet Velleman (lower) purchase Belgian blood sausage for supper. Foreign born fathers and mothers form 11.9 and 10.8 per cent of all M.H.S. students' parents.

The Vanderbosch girls and Calvin Cook (lower) are part of the 78.6 per cent of high school students who are church members. Disregarding the rain, sleet, and snow of the midwest, 69.3 per cent attend church regularly. On her family's television set, Mara Geier, (upper left) a member of a very limited 6.19 per cent, can watch Arthur Godfrey as well as listen to him. The average student owns 1.26 pets. Putting his crutch to a new use, Ed Clark (upper right) trains his bewildered dog to sit up and speak.

The Census of Activities . . .

A variety of 28 different school activities enables the Mishawaka High School student to participate in a full extra curricular program. Interest clubs with 742, Y-Teen and Hi-Y with 396, and music clubs with 176 have the most members. The most populated club is the Y-Teen group with 302, and the smallest is the debate team with only 8 members. Despite vast irregularities in size the average membership per club is 63.07.

Activities.....Behind

A Capella Choir Memorizes 50 songs each year. Vernon Freeze is practicing one of the favorites of the choir, "Great Gettin' Up Morning." The Cecilians, who are a group of girls selected from the choir, have a repertoire of an additional 20 selections.

6 per cent of the students play 2 instuments

Cavekids play .79 of an instrument. Some musicians toot, bang, and saw on as many as 4, 5, and even 8 instruments. Over one-fourth of the students play one instrument.

Hi-Y's dollar dues are the highest of all clubs in school. Eight organizations have 50 cent dues while seven collect only 25 cents a year from their members. Treasurer Irene Greenawalt collects Science Club's 25 cent dues from member Lois McGowan.

The Scenes With Cyrano

The Y-Teens is the largest club in school, but not the oldest. As early as 1915 the Art Club was operating while the Science Club and Commercial Club were active in 1918. The Y-Teens, like many other organizations, has acquired a new name during the years.

¼ of the students are hall guides sometime in their high school careers. Girls outnumber boys 60 to 30 in this field of service. Hall guide Jeanie Dosmann studies while a cat snuggles up for a nap.

Only 57 per cent of the students take the Alltold. One method the Alltold uses to get some of its news is the dope box, which produces from 15 to 30 scoops on what is happening around school. The dope box gives inside info about who's going with whom to what.

New Ideas Added to Old Routine

"The cause that refreshes," a program designed to improve student manners and to create friendly relations between faculty and students, attained both its goals. Introduced for the first time by Jean Greenawalt and Miss Alice McKeehan, chairman and sponsor of the Social Committee with the Student Council officers, Art Greenfield, president; Ed Addison, vice president; Barbara Beutter, secretary; Lynn Williams, treasurer; and Miss Lynetta Wilson, sponsor, the after-school coke hour proved so popular that it was repeated monthly during the second semester.

In addition to annual projects, many problems were relegated to the six standing committees for investigation. Upon recommendation of the Building and Grounds Committee, the school ordered one dozen new flags. Most students were unaware of the work by council members involved before each game in obtaining players' names from various schools for the roster in the gym. The parade and the Coronation Ball before the Central game and the Bitter-Sweet Midsemester Dance were traditional features of the year's program.

NO EXCUSE for being late to study hall now! Student Councilers Herb Dixon and Milt Ross proudly help install the long-awaited hall clock.

"GOOD DEAL," agrees Art Greenfield, as he approves the plans for the Mid-Semester Dance suggested by the Student Council officers, Barbara Beutter, Lynn Williams, Ed Addison, social chairman Jean Greenawalt, and sponsor Miss Wilson.

DEBATE — Standing: Gunderson, Greenfield, Mr. Hall, Elsasser. Seated: Brenneman, Gresser, Dixon, Horan, Powell.

Arguments and Gestures

"Resolved: That the President of the United States should be elected by the direct vote of the people." Mr. Douglas Hall's eight debaters participated in the St. Joseph Valley Extemporaneous Speeches and later in a series of round table discussions with Central and Adams. Relaxing at the end of the season, students from Central, Riley, Adams, LaPorte, Nappanee, and Mishawaka delivered humorous speeches after the March banquet.

BOARD OF CONTROL—Standing: Ross, Miss Perkins, Orlosky, Miss Miller, Lowe, Mr. Steele, Mr. Myers. Seated: Wilson, Mr. Yaw, Miss Wilson, Mr. Neff, Steinke, Schmidt.

Added to their work were the constitutions for three new organizations: the Home Economics Club, the Euclidean Circle, and the Junior Librarians. Dropped from their supervision were the athletic budgets, which were placed under the control of the Athletic Council.

This is a special honor for Belgian-born Paula, for she learned English when she enrolled in the Mishawaka schools just three years ago.

The National Honor Society, with impressive candle-light ceremonies in October and March, inducted new members who had maintained high standards in scholarship, leadership, service, and character. The club, sponsored by Mrs. Lora Kohler, presented a scholarship cup to Mr. Myers which was to be awarded to the sponsor room having the highest scholastic average each six weeks. The annual banquet held December 7 was a break from the usual serious routine.

Officers chosen for the two semesters were: presidents, Herbert Dixon and Bob Speybroeck; vice presidents, Don Portolese and Dolores LaCluyse; secretaries, Elizabeth Taggart and Lauretta Oswald; treasurers, Billie Tavernier and Jeanne Borah.

Future Employers Guests at Banquet

The annual Commercial Club banquet, with Dr. Paul F. Muse of Indiana State Teachers' College as guest speaker, highlighted a calendar studded with initiation, Christmas, and Alumni parties, intermingled with business meetings. At the banquet the Ball Band presented the traditional trophy to the outstanding senior in the Commercial Department. President, Pauline Holbert; vice president, Jeanie Dosmann; secretary, Georgia Clark; and treasurer, Mary Ann Zehring, with Miss Ruth Foulke as advisor, presented a well-planned program.

Miss Lorena Phemister sponsored the club with Marilou Parent as president; Helen Klopfenstein, vice president; and Mary Freet, secretary-treasurer.

Figures and Fun

New to M.H.S. this year, the Euclidean Circle, whose twenty members had completed one semester of geometry, solved unusual math problems during their monthly meetings. The year's program for the new Home Economics Club sponsored by Miss Alice McKeehan, Miss Charlotte Bragg, Miss Muriel Mathias, and Miss Barbara Baugh with Mary Doyle as president; Mary Sherbun, vice president; Joyce Lindzy, secretary; and Patricia Curtis, treasurer, was brimming with activities. The club's 189 girls and 2 adventurous boys began the season gaily with a fall picnic and a business meeting on October 4; the officers were installed during a candlelight ceremony and presented with red roses, the flower of the national organization. Other social and educational meetings included a Christmas party, a field trip to a hospital, and an interesting talk on "Color in the Home" by Patricia Myers of South Bend. With Pauline Holbert as chairman, the spotlight of the season was on the Ballerina Hop in April. The schedule closed in May with the election of officers and a panel discussion on "Looking Forward."

Experiments Demonstrated by Scientists

One hundred Science Club members theorized and experimented with the deep secrets of science. In November the club visited the Indiana Junior Academy of Science in Bloomington. A showing of the film, "God of the Atom," developed the club's interest in the new wonders of natural science. On April 18, the club presented an A assembly program with demonstrations and talks by the senior members.

The general club officers were James McIntee, president; James Lanphear, vice president; Irene Greenawalt, secretary-treasurer; and James Gygi, sergeant-at-arms Mr. Darl Wood was head sponsor and advisor of the physics section; Mr. Charles Karst, advisor of the chemistry section; and Mr. Earl Stine, advisor of the biology section.

Hobbies Today

Teach Jobs That Pay

With shavings in their hair and iron filings under their finger nails, the 109 members of the Engineering Club worked on jet automobiles, gas engines, and cabinets. Production on hobbies was temporarily stopped during the winter months when the building was closed in the evenings during the coal strike. Mr. Robert Warring, Mr. John Farney, and Mr. Kenneth Armel sponsored the club, assisted by Milt Ross, president; Jim Tinsman, vice president; and Phil Kamerer, secretary-treasurer.

Learn Today Teach Tomorrow

Over 500 students jammed the cafeteria hall demanding admittance to the first after-game dance sponsored by the Future Teachers of America. The dance set the pace for a year's schedule filled with a wiener roast, panel discussions, and talks by Dr. Young and Miss Eleanor Morita, a Hawaiian exchange teacher. Miss Emily Barracks served as faculty advisor with Lois Roesti as president; Josephine Vance, vice president; Betty Pekari, secretary; and Ralph Powell, treasurer.

"Great Expectations for Growth," the Junior Red Cross slogan for 1949, stimulated the forty-two representatives to promote the membership drive and the Annual Community Chest Drive.

As a part of their training the Junior Librarians checked out books, worked in the magazine room, and collected fines for overdue books. The Misses Catherine Jones and Margaret Griffin sponsored the group.

Tryouts Tonight

With lips pursed for the right sound and with an attempt at correct posture and gestures, students tried out for Speech Club membership. In November, the sixty members assisted the Thespians in giving the three-act play, "Life With Father." Christmas and Valentine parties distracted members from the long hours of study. The spring months ushered in a guest meeting with a special speaker, an assembly program by professional talent, and the annual banquet. Club officers were Sally Fee, president; Roscoe Yarbrough, vice president; Elizabeth Taggart, secretary-treasurer; and Miss Emily K. Davidson, sponsor.

Curtain Going Up

Mishawaka's National Thespian Troupe completed its usual active year. With monthly meetings, a make-up demonstration by Mr. Neil Crumb of the Presbyterian Players, initiation, a Christmas party, a Chinese theater movie, and the spring banquet with the Speech Club honoring the seniors, the club lived up to its standards of hard work and excellent accomplishments. Troupe No. 496 and the Speech Club combined forces to present the hit play, "Life With Father." Heading the club's efforts were president, Elaine Radecki; vice president, Darwin Vance; secretary-treasurer, Jean Greenawalt; and the sponsor, Miss Emily Davidson.

FATHER DELIGHTS in intimidating each of a succession of new maids and makes breakfast a hectic affair in the Day household.

Red Heads Score Hit

The antics of Father in the Thespian and the Speech Club's production of the popular comedy, "Life with Father," delighted capacity audiences on November 17 and 18. The plot centered around Mother's attempt to have Father baptized; the confusion presented by the Day boys, Father's dominating ways, and the frequent visits of Vinnie's relatives added to the continual turmoil. In spite of the uproar, peace at last prevailed with Father's consent to be baptized. Jim Ganser and Mara Geier expertly played the roles of Father and Mother. A superb supporting cast included Darwin Vance, Edwin Addison, Roscoe Yarbrough, Dick Cowen, Roland Dale, Elaine Radecki, Patricia Woods, Barbara Beutter, James Smelser, Carl Gunderson, and Arthur Hills. Other members of the cast were Paula Makielski, Carol Bodine, June Wilson, Jean Greenawalt, Reta White, Roberta Smith, Ninasue La Place, Katie Sundberg, and Carolynne Myers.

VINNIE LISTENS with mixed emotions to Whitney's stammered recitation of his catechism while Dr. Lloyd feels that he has done very well for so young a boy.

MOTHER'S WILES TRAP Father into ultimate defeat by frightening him into a promise to be baptized.

HELEN EXPRESSES her disgust at drawing a middle-aged woman as a roommate to sympathetic Sylvia, Bunny and, Carrie.

JACK, Bill, Bobo, and Howie find Abby the perfect freshman. The boys immediately pop the question, "Will you go to the dance with me?"

ABBY LEADS with a hard right to the jaw upon discovering from her self-centered daughter that she too has received a book of love poems.

Freshman Mother Is Wolf-Bait at Pointer

Showing talent and beauty, Paula Makielski portrayed sophisticated mother Abby, and Carol Bodine, daughter Susan in the junior class production of Raphael David Blau's comedy, "Mother Is a Freshman." Sharing equal honors were Dale Showalter as the handsome young professor and Rex Masten as Beaumont Jackson, Susan's neglected flame. Other cast members were: Doris Daffron, Carolynne Myers, Charlotte Proudfit, Kate Sundberg, Joyce Lindzy, Beverly Hoover, Beverly Brantner, Carl Gunderson, Jim Gygi, Martin Kindig, and John Hanson. Student director, Frances Hahn, assisted, while Miss Emily K. Davidson directed the entire production.

Thrills and Chills Sweep Audience

The senior class of 1950 presented Elizabeth McFadden's play, "Double Door," directed by Miss Emily K. Davidson.

The play concerns the developing madness of Victoria Van Bret who, as mistress of her patrician home on Fifth Avenue, rules her family with irrational harshness. Both her sister Caroline and her half-brother Rip are unable to resist her severity. The approaching marriage of her brother increases her bitterness since Rip's bride-elect is of a lower social station; to Victoria's deranged mind, this constitutes a threat to the integrity of the Van Bret dynasty. The demented woman's deliberate torture of the bride, culminating in an attempt to murder her, is the sinister plot of the play.

SERVANTS, Jackie Baugher and Roscoe Yarbrough, quake as Victoria, Elaine Radecki, fingers her pearls gloating, "They're mine, all mine."

To Entertain Themselves

Thriving in its third year of existence, the C Sharp Minor Club harmoniously combined musical notes with the following programs: a Bell Telephone Hour picture, Christmas party, senior recital, and local concerts. Jeanette Anderson, president; Jane Peterson, vice president; Anne Peterson, secretary; Arthur Hills, treasurer; and Miss Hackett, sponsor, planned the activities and programs for the club.

Versatile Choir Sings for Churches, Clubs, Concerts

The A Capella Choir and the Cecilians, under the direction of Miss Lucine Jones, were two of 1950's most energetic clubs. Both groups, composed of select voices, proved that the entrance requirements, diction, tone blending, and group submission, paid dividends in synchronization and cadence. The forty choir members contributed their talents to the North Central Indiana Teachers Association Chorus of 500 voices. In December, they presented the beautiful Christmas Vespers with portraits of the Nativity. Other programs included the traditional Spring Concert in May and the Baccalaureate Services in June. Choir officers were James McIntee, president; Marian Eminger, vice president; Josephine Vance, secretary; Dick Warnes, treasurer; and Alta Johnson, librarian.

Swingheart Sway and Sportsmanship Sign Hi-Y Projects

In October the Hi-Y provided a float and escorts for the Mishawaka queen's court and programs for the Central game; leaders also enjoyed a retreat at Camp Eberhart. Ushering in the Christmas season, members sold trees for the Y.M.C.A. On the February agenda, the annual Swingheart Sway delighted couples attending. Mr. Eldon Schalliol served as head sponsor, with Mr. Walter Johnson leading the seniors; Mr. Francis Firmani, the juniors; and Mr. Merle Blue, the sophomores in carrying out the standards of the Hi-Y.

Clothes for Children

Staffed by Carolyn Prickett, president; Janice Showalter, vice president; Nancy Schroeder, secretary; Carol Vanderbosch, treasurer; Josephine Vance, sergeant-at-arms; and Miss Buchanan, sponsor, the Y-Teens worked hand in hand, through its Inter-Club Council members, with the parent organization, the Y.W.C.A. At Christmas time, in cooperation with the Hi-Y, they decked the halls with holly and festive yuletide banners. Important events were the recognition and Pre-Easter services. As one of their many projects, the club made dresses and aprons for the Children's Aid Society. Members eagerly awaited two spring programs, the annual Y-Teen dinner in March, and the installation of officers in May.

Noses for News

The Alltold staff presented the facts of life at M. H. S. with bigger and better issues. The "Who's Who and What They Do" column, instituted last year, and the choice bits of gossip in the "As the Alltold Tells It" remained sure-fire hits with the students. On the serious side, the paper contained up-to-the minute news on all important school events. With a "do or die" attitude, staff members searched for news, wrote and rewrote copy, and rushed to meet deadlines. Taking a breather from editorial duties, delegates from the Alltold and the Miskodeed attended the National Scholastic Press Association Convention in Chicago during Thanksgiving vacation. Miss Leila Heimbach advised the publication of the newspaper.

Youthful Journalists Elected to Quill and Scroll

After displaying outstanding talents in high school journalism, eighteen students were honored by membership in the Quill and Scroll. Old members, Barbara Beutter, Joan Norton, Sharon Smith, Bob Speybroeck, and Elizabeth Taggart planned the initiation for new inductees, Gene Addison, Mary Craig, Marian Eminger, Virginia Horan, Carl Kaiser, Helen Klopfenstein, Dolores LaCluyse, Martha Lou Lang, John Mullin, Ed Schmidt from the Miskodeed, and Juliana Brasini, Herbert Dixon, Virginia Horan, Carolynne Myers, Carolyn Prickett, Nancy Schroeder, Arthur Webber, Barbara Weinkauf, Barbara Whittaker from the Alltold. For informal initiation, inductees were sent on add assignments.

Miskodeed Staff Takes the Census

"What'cha askin' all that stuff for?" This phrase rang through the halls of M.H.S. during the week the Miskodeed took a census. After using the sophomores in sponsor room 216 as guinea pigs in the first trial of the census, the staff reorganized and rewrote the questionnaire. The staff tabulated 69,000 answers to the 46 questions asked of 1500 students. This included questions of all sizes, sorts, and figures, ranging from 'How many pictures do you carry in your billfold?", to "Are you a member of a church?" The newly organized junior staff helped in this important project. By tabulating statistics and rewriting copy, the "would-be-editors" gained a preview of the work necessary for the 1951 book.

Surprise keynoted the 1950 annual. Choosing the census as the theme, the staff deliberately upset the pattern set in previous books. The seniors discovered to their amazement that their pictures were placed in the back of the book; the student life section superseded their traditional place of honor. The business staff, with the help of the Student Council, increased the subscription sales from 66 to 75 per cent of the enrollment.

The Miskoeditors managed some fun along with their work by sponsoring an aftergame dance and arranging the Miskodeed Autograph Dance in May, for distribution of the 1950 year book.

Other Stairway, Please

Miss Helen Stoddart's Hall Guides directed traffic with a firm hand, ran errands here and there, offered their brains and brawn to those in need, and greeted high school guests with a welcoming smile. Halloween and Valentine parties offered relaxation and fun for the members. This service organization was headed by Jean Randecker, president; Walter Claeys, vice president; and Hazel Arnett, secretary-treasurer.

Pull the Shades

They had to be good! The movie operators accepted the responsibility of handling the $2000 worth of equipment over 2000 times during the year. The active members ran the expensive projectors while trainees advanced toward this goal. As a side-line, the operators had to know their tape recorders, calephones, slide and movie projectors. Mr. Darl Wood was sponsor, and Jim Lanphear, president of this organization.

Watch that back-drop! Move those chairs! Dim the lights! These typical orders, directed to the efficient and bustling stage crew, were responsible for the smooth procedure in all performances of plays, concerts, games, and assemblies. Boys learned to handle the equipment, microphones, lights, and curtains quietly and quickly. Mr. Everett A. Welsh supervised the crew and instructed its members in the arts of stage craft.

Tickets Please

On the job at each auditorium performance, the ushers in their maroon and white uniforms met the public with smiles on their faces and programs in their hands. The thirteen members under the leadership of sponsor, Mr. Armin Amos, and officers, James Smelser, captain, and Edward Schmidt, lieutenant, proved to be willing, courteous workers and competently handled the seating of capacity crowds at each performance.

Census of Sports . . .

The athletes of Mishawaka High School completed the year of 1949 with a record of 50 victories and 38 defeats. This gave the Maroons a .568 winning percentage in over-all sports standings. Among the Cavemen's booty were conference championships in tennis and cross country, a conference co-championship in basketball, an East-West N.I.H.S. title in tennis, sectional crowns in track and cross country and one twin-city title in track.

Sports . . .

Everything from tape to tweezers is found in the first aid kit. Putting in about 16 hours per week, managers issue 300 towels and polish the basketballs twice every week.

4/5 of tennis team are honor students. Of the 279 boys out for sports, 14.2 per cent are honor students. These 40 athletes average 23.12 points or slightly over a "B" average. All boys out for sports, however, must be eligible by passing at least three subjects.

443 season basketball tickets were sold to students who wanted to cheer their team to victory. Typical of the excited spectators, rooter Duane Blume gives a lusty yell for the team. Adult fans bought 505 basketball season tickets.

Coach John Farney's 1949 flashes, co-captained by Stan Ross and Don Wood, reached the high point of their successful season by racking up 48 ½ points to take a first place in the sectional meet held on Tupper Field last spring. LaPorte was second with 35 points and Central a poor third with 19 points. Individual performer of the day, Stan Ross, ran a brilliant 51.4 seconds in the 440-yard dash to break the sectional record, the all time Mishawaka track and field record, and to tie the Tupper Field record. Later in the same meet Walt Schoenegge, Lawrence Healy, Dick Baldwin, and Stan Ross shattered the all time Mishawaka track and field record by 2.3 seconds, to set a new mile relay record of 3 minutes, 33.2 seconds.

In the Eastern Division Indoor Conference meet at Notre Dame, John Benjamin set another Mishawaka all time record by heaving the shot a distance of 51' 4 ½".

At the regional in East Chicago, Milt Ross took a first place for the Cavemen by clearing the pole at 11' 10¾", another all time Mishawaka record, and in the high jump Neal Tracy finished second to Harper of Hammond, who scaled 6' 4".

On May 27, several members of the team journeyed to the state meet at Indianapolis where Milt Ross vaulted 12' to tie for third and fourth, Mishawaka's only points. For his hard work, success, and good sportsmanship, Milt Ross received the Walter "Dutch" Thurston most valuable track and field award.

The outstanding Ross-brother combination who led the team in individual scoring, contributed much toward a highly successful season. Milt racked up a total of 137½ points, and Stan scored 106¼ points. Like the track teams of the past, the '49 squad, as a whole, snagged more than their share of laurels from the schools in the conference.

DEWALD Digs Dirt for Victory Over S. B. Central

New Diamond, No Sparkle

Battling valiantly, though in vain, on the new Merrifield Park diamond last year, the '49 baseball boys tumbled into the cellar along with Washington and Elkhart. The Mishawakans' greatest thrill came in their defeat of the conference champs, Central Bears, 7-4, in the non-conference tilt. In the game that counted, however, the Bears turned the tables by triumphing over the Cavemen, 7-4.

During the season three homers, two whacked by Dan Nesbitt, and one by Jim Dewald, zipped over the enemy fielders' heads. Infielders fired the ball in and out to chalk up a total of six double plays. Dewald led the batting average with .400, while the team's average reached .292.

Ward Baker retired as head coach to terminate eight years of coaching. Bake, well liked by all the batsmen, was succeeded by a capable leader, George Wilson. Wilson's job was to build a fighting team for 1950.

Golf Six, Win Six, Lose Six

In the spring of 1949 twelve boys, eager to whack drives down the fairways, began to dig through drawers and cupboards, to unearth golf clubs and shag bags from the cellar and attic.

These linksmen, coached by Vic Wukovits, played twelve conference matches, winning six and losing as many. In the Mishawaka-Central match, the Bears saw the conference crown slipping away, but managed to conquer the Cavemen by a score of 6½ to 5½. The two big meets of the season were the LaPorte Invitational in which the Maroons placed eighth, and the state sectional in which they finished eleventh. At the LaPorte Invitational Joe Becraft fired a round of 77 to tie for medalist honors, but lost the trophy in the playoff.

The team was hampered by the loss of Ed Clark, who was recuperating from a broken leg.

Tennis Title Retained

Coach Russell Arndt's 1949 tennis team successfully defended its N.I.H.S. Conference crown for the second consecutive year and extended its victories to 22 straight. With the Eastern Division title under their belts, the Arndtmen white-washed the Western Division champs, East Chicago Washington, by a score of 5-0 for the conference title. The trophy winners opened the season by disposing of a strong Central team by a score of 4-1. The team next blanked North Side Fort Wayne and Riley by scores of 5-0. Five days later in the Adams match, the closest contest of the season, the Cavemen dropped two of the three singles matches and then, trailing 2-1, rallied to take both doubles matches, winning 3-2.

Goshen followed on the Cavemen agenda, and the champs successfully by-passed them with a score of 4-1. On September 29, the Cavemen faced Elkhart, runner-up in the Eastern Division. After getting off to a slow start, the racketeers polished off the Blazers with a 3-2 score. The Mishawakans easily won the championship crown by defeating Michigan City and LaPorte by scores of 5-0.

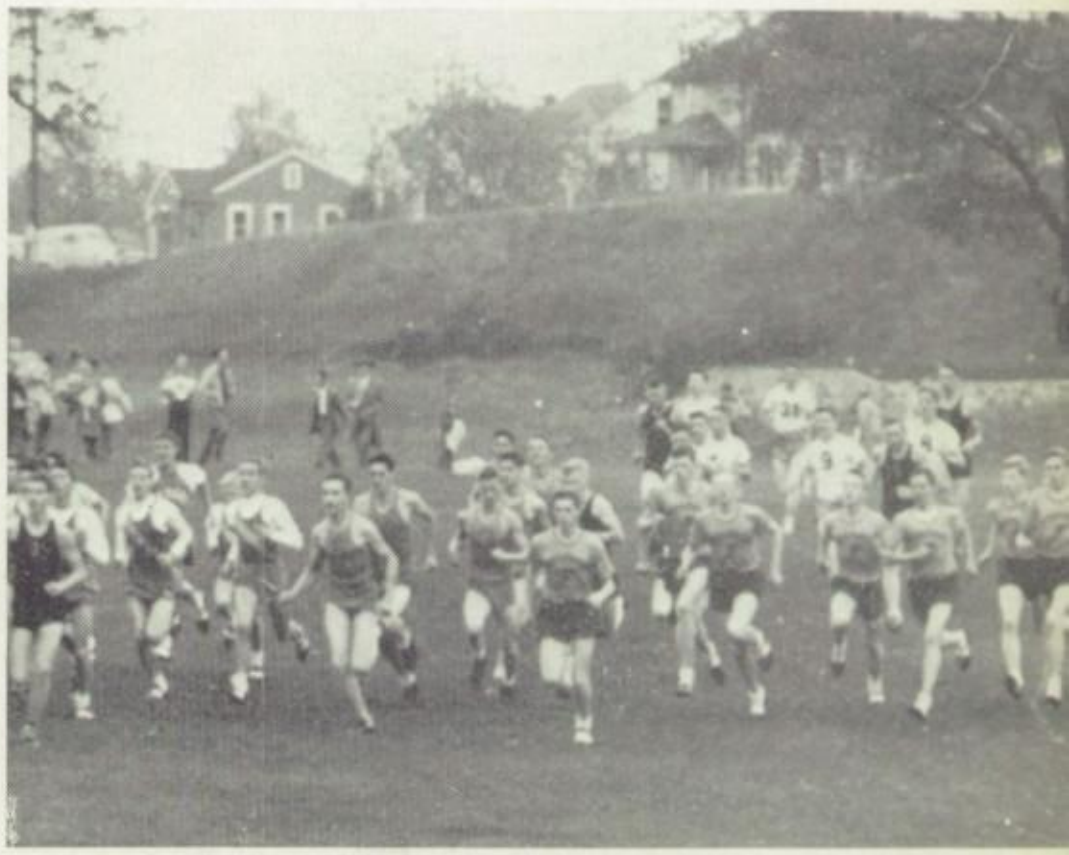
THEY'RE OFF, and the Cavemen two-milers are on their way to their third consecutive sectional title. Shown at the start of the two mile grind, Mishawaka is well bunched and must stay that way in order to gain as many points as possible.



37 Straight, Second in State

The nonathletic student often wonders why athletes are always training, meeting the ten o'clock curfew, foregoing cake, pie, and candy, and practicing long hours after school. The fans of the 1949 cross country team now realize why perfect physical condition is important, for the Cavemen, with practically no experience in distance running, worked and trained themselves into the runner-up spot in the state finals.

The Maroon harriers, with one returning veteran, swept every single conference meet plus the Niles meet to make their consecutive victory string read 37. As the conference champions, the Hillmen entered the sectional meet outdistancing LaPorte and Central to become the chief threat to Anderson's state title. Ralph Powell, fastest Mishawaka man, finished fifteenth in the state run, as the Cavemen placed second to the Anderson harriers.

Coach Francis Hill's well balanced team consisted chiefly of juniors, sophomores, and a freshman; but two seniors, Co-captains John Stafford and Paul Williams, predominated with their performances.

DYKSTRA'S HAT serves as a gauge to events happening on the field. Quoted Dykstra, when asked about the picture, "Things couldn't have been going too badly on the field, because my hat's on straight." When asked how many he buys a season, he said, "One, and if it splits I sew it up and use the same one again." This fedora came precariously close to splitting last year.

BREAKING INTO THE CLEAR after gathering in a punt, Bob Sriver heads for the final chalk line. His teammates Don Coleman (26) and Roger Slabaugh (53) have aided him with hard blocks. Landuit (34) and Radecki (32) of South Bend Washington are trying to close in for the tackle, but Sriver eludes them only to be brought down a few yards farther up the field.

DRIVING HARD, with his head down, Don Coleman burrows his way between two Washington High Gridmen. Attempting to maintain his balance and forward locomotion, Coleman frequently netted extra yards with the use of his powerful legs and swivel-hipped running.

Dykstra Drills Fundamentals Into Young Football Squad

Featuring a squad composed of sophomores, juniors, and a few seniors, Mishawaka High and their new football coach, Gene Dykstra, began to build for future years. Coach Dykstra, stressing all the fundamentals necessary for playing good football, put his team through its paces during fall practice to condition his team for the '49 season. Mishawaka's final count came to one victory and eight defeats.

Midway through the season the Maroons shone brilliantly, defeating a highly touted Goshen eleven 18 to 7. They tore the Goshen line to shreds and completely bottled up the Redskins' passing attack. Elkhart, on the preceding Friday, however, threw out a torrid passing attack and stopped the Cavemen marches on the ground; Mishawaka connected on several passes and scored three T.D.'s by this method.

In playing the teams in the Lake Michigan area, Hammond, Michigan City, and East Chicago Washington, the Cavemen were drowned 102 to 6. At times the Maroons showed a lot of power and drive; but, on the whole, the opposition was never in trouble. The Maroon cause was greatly undermined in the first game of the season against Hammond when Wally Vernasco fractured his leg.

The Dykstramen faired much better against South Bend schools. Even though they lost all their games to these four schools, they scored 42 points to their opponents' 95. The Tupper Field invaders, Central, Washington, and Riley, showed too much brute strength in the line and speed in the backfield for the Cavemen. Mishawaka lost a heartbreaker to John Adams. After leading 18 to 14, the Maroons lost 27 to 18.

UP, UP, AND AWAY the ball sails toward the cross bar as the lines clash in terrific combat. Mac Willingham, place kicker for the Maroons, sent three out of three placements spinning between the goal post at the Elkhart game.

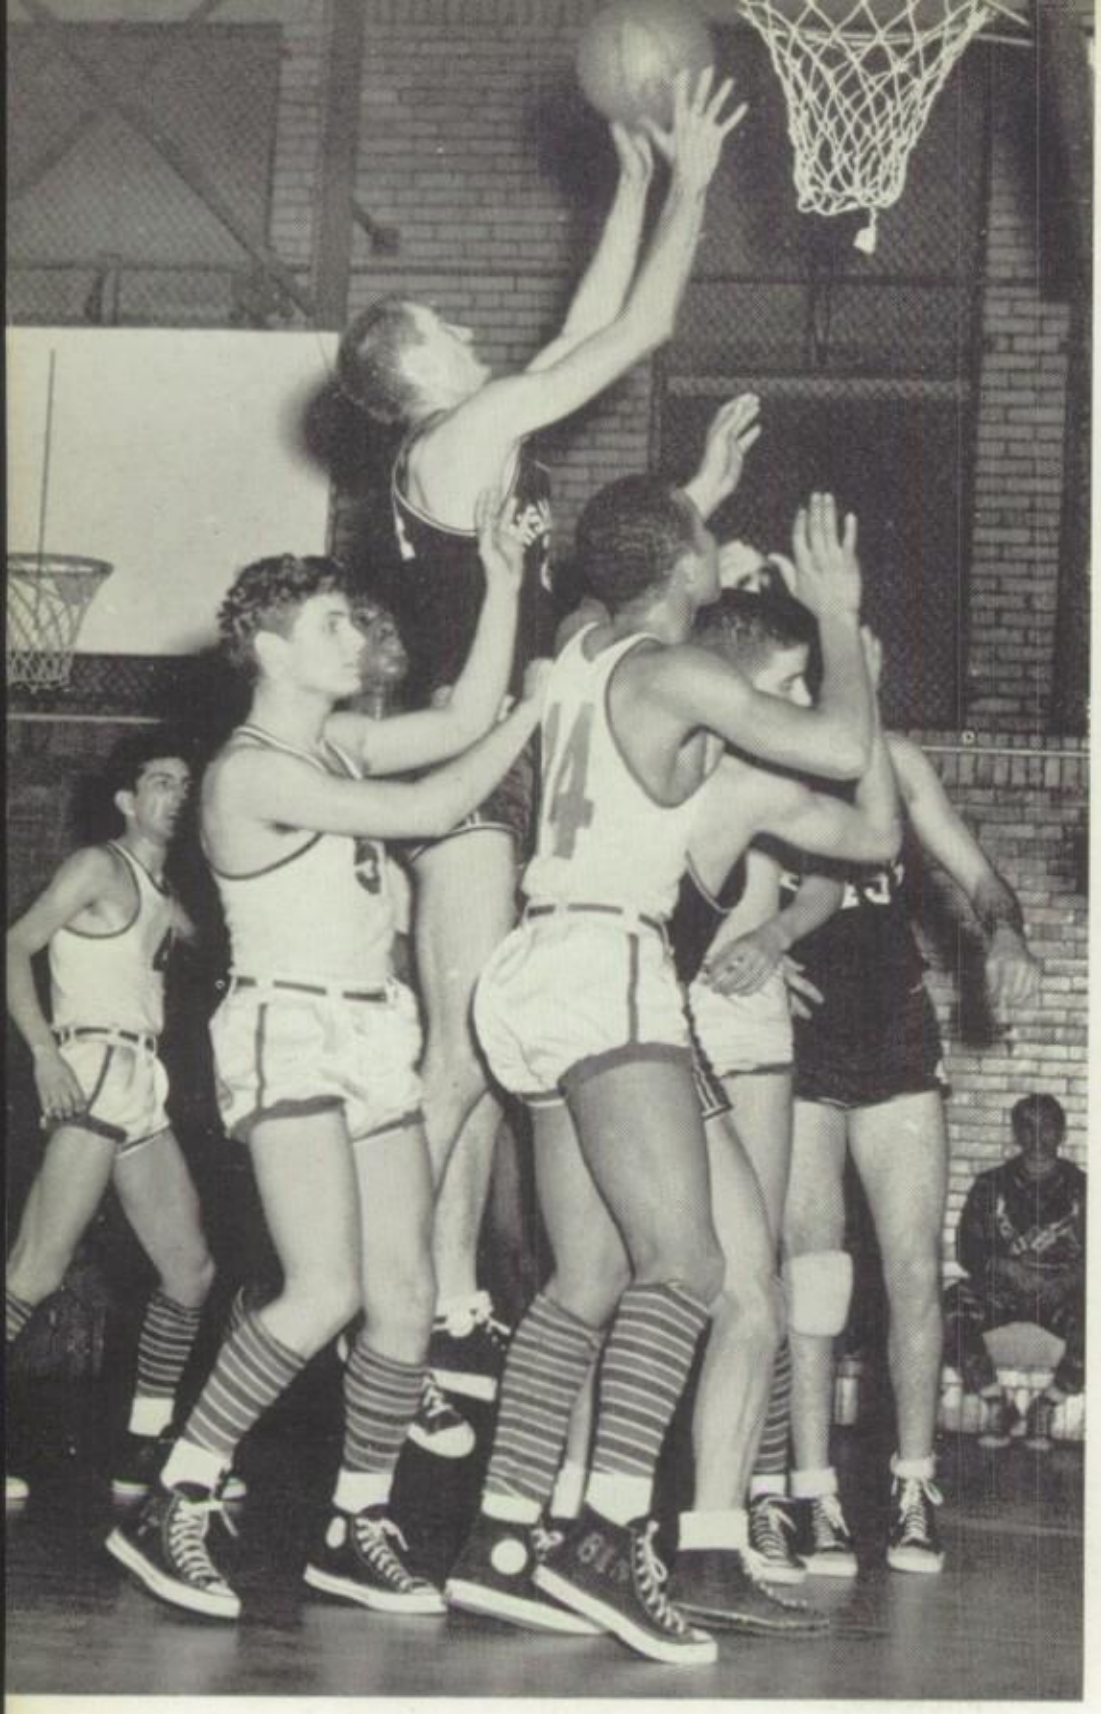
Yea, Maroon! Yea, White!

The cheering and hysteria at any M.H.S. football or basketball game rises with a crescendo at the pre-game pep session.

In the second annual Cavemen-Bear parade, the rain soaked floats did not dampen the spirits of the bedraggled participants. Basketball pep sessions were highly spirited and, as usual, the Central game commanded the most attention. Led by the pretty cheerleaders, the student body showed so much enthusiasm that the temperamental yell meter exploded under the strain of the cheers.

SKITS AND SPEECHES raise pre-game morale and honor winning teams. Dykstra (left) praises the team for its showing in the Goshen game as Canarecci hangs his head with modesty. A Washington Panther (right) hangs in effigy in back of a sign which reads "Cavemen Beat Panthers."



AMID THE SCRAMBLE of players, Tracy stands head and shoulders above the rest as he takes the ball off the hoop.

Cavemen Win 73% of Games

The Cavemen won 16 and lost 6, winning one more than in the '48 season and tying for second with Elkhart in the conference standings. In the past season the Maroons drilled 334 field goals through the hoop to the opposition's 279 and sank 232 charity tosses to 198 for their opponents. The officials called 351 fouls against the adversary as compared to 334 against Mishawaka.

The Mishawaka Basketeers, playing their first three games on the road, defeathered the Burris Owls to avenge their '48 loss and licked the Plymouth Pilgrims, but the Anderson Indians tripped up the Cavemen for their first loss in three starts.

The scoreboards read M.H.S. 61, Central 45 at the end of the fourth game of the season. The Maroons crushed the Bruins with a tremendous second-half rally.

Mishawaka started fast in the conference scramble by defeating Goshen, Riley, North Side of Fort Wayne, and John Adams. The Maroons played superb ball in all of the contests and not once were the issues in doubt. In the four-game span the starting lineup of Frayman, Tracy, Benjamin, Coffman, and Ross scored 15, 48, 50, 33, and 24 points respectively.

After the Elkhart Blue Blazers, the first team to defeat the Cavemen in a conference tilt, took an early lead, the Mishawakans fought back hard coming within three points of the Blazers' score at half time. Elkhart again went out in front and was ahead except for a brief period early in the fourth quarter.

On the night after the Elkhart game the Maroons humbled eleventh-ranked Fort Wayne South Side in a non-conference battle. The scoring honors were well divided among the Cavemen as they dropped in 52 points.

The Maroons split their next two loop games defeating LaPorte 70-61 and losing to the Central Bears 56-45. Both contests were wild-scoring affairs with neither completely settled until the final gun.

The conference schedule ended in fine style when the Michigan City Devils and the Washington Panthers fell before the onslaught of the invading Cagers from Mishawaka.

Of the remaining four games the Maroons lost but one. They were defeated by Froebel, third-ranked team in the state. The other three games with Auburn, Culver, and Winamac were easily won and uneventful except that Big John Benjamin broke the twenty-four year old scoring record for the Mishawaka gym by scoring 34 points.

In the sectional the Cavemen won their first game against Washington, but they lost to a scrappy bunch of Eagles from John Adams. Jack Frayman and Harold Coffman flipped in two pointers to give the Maroons a one point lead with less than a minute to go; Adams, however, was not to be denied, and Mel Edgerton sank the winning basket.

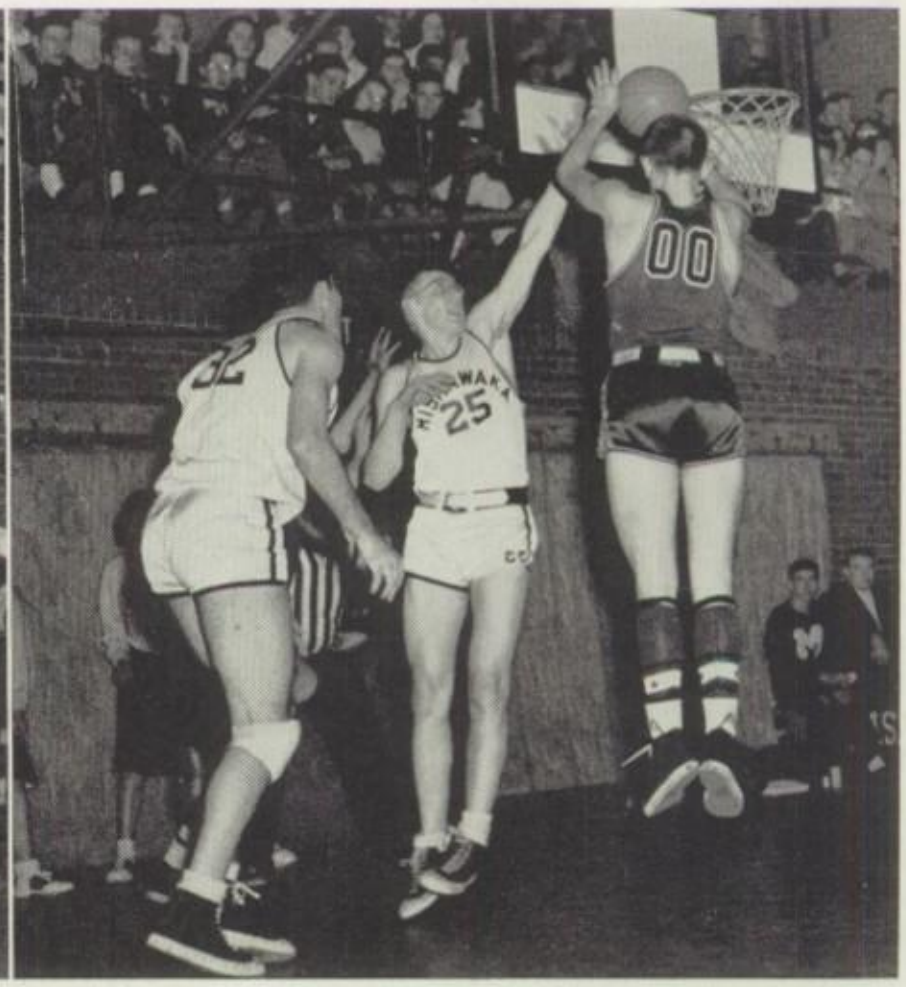
AS THE BALL BOUNCES off the rim, Benjamin and Coffman stand poised for the leap. Ross has already left the floor in an attempt to tip the ball into the basket.



LEAPING INTO THE AIR, Powell attempts to block a shot by an Auburn cager, who has worked his way through the zone defense.

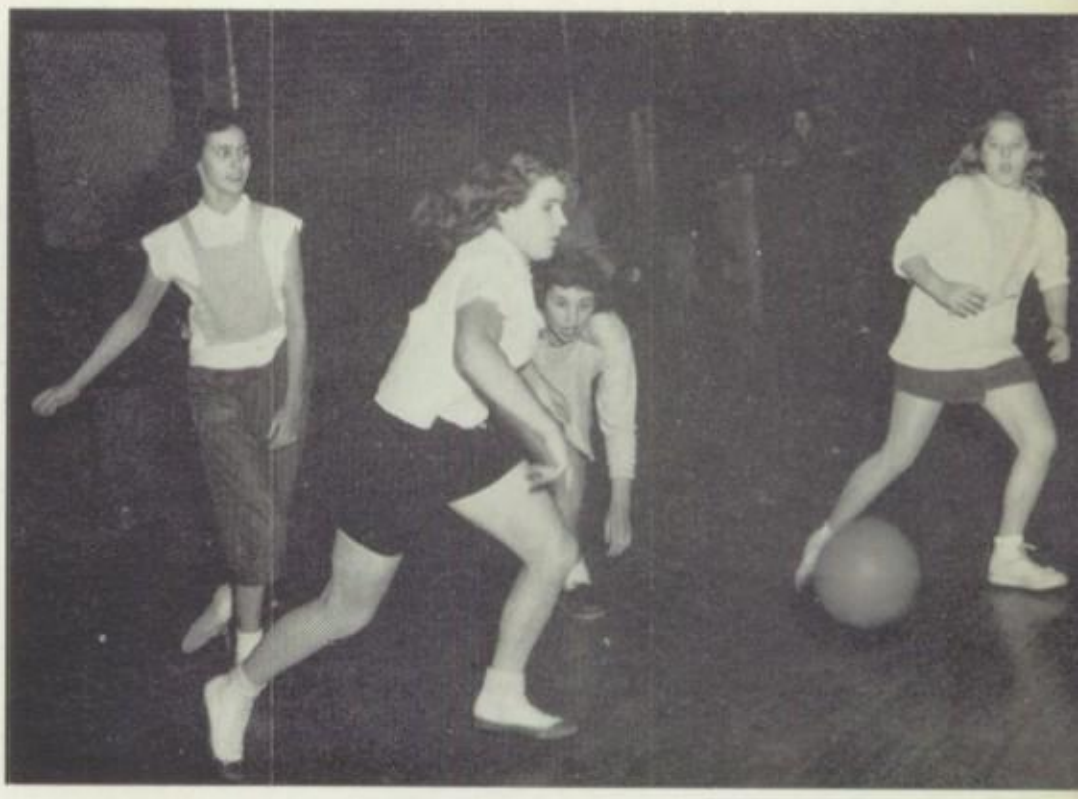
Beutter Twins Head G.A.A.

"Ouch! Stop kicking my shins," shouted a girl as two players entangled themselves while trying to get possession of the ball in a fast game of speedball. Speedball was only one of the sports in which the G.A.A. participated. Others were deck tennis, basketball, and softball.

The G.A.A. met every Thursday night and Monday and Wednesday during fourth hour under the sponsorship of Miss Valeria Grey, who introduced field hockey to the girls for the first time at M.H.S. To erase a deficit from previous years, the G.A.A. sold salt water taffy and book covers.

The Beutter twins, Delores and Lois, held the offices of president and vice president respectively. The secretary-treasurer was Marilyn Honold.



GIRLS MOVE IN and boys move out when the G.A.A. meets every Thursday night in the gym. They play a less strenuous game of basketball than the boys because the line dividing the floor separates the girls into two groups allowing only six girls to go after the ball at one time.

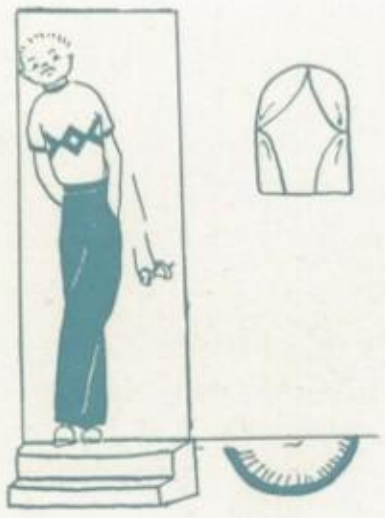
Census of People . . . .

Conforming to a nation wide trend, the enrollment in Mishawaka High School continued to grow to new heights. The second semester statistics revealed the facts that the 627 freshmen constitute 39.1 per cent of the entire high school enrollment of 1607 and surpassed the combined number of seniors and juniors. Sophomores rank second in population with 377, followed by 329 juniors and 274 seniors. This increase shows 5.72 per cent more students going to high school now than during the first semester.

People . . .



Trailers house 2.16 per cent of the students. While a slightly higher percentage, 2.95, live in apartments, a large majority of students, 94.89 per cent, live in houses. More sophomores, 97.1 per cent, live in houses than any other class.

A's and F's are put on report cards by Mr. Francis Hill. Chances are slim that the grade is an A, for only 9.5 per cent of all grades earned are A's. A more comforting thought is that the majority of the grades are C's and B's. Happily, only 3.2 per cent of the grades issued are F's.

Lost: Betty Hutton's "Papa Don't Preach to Me." This record was one of a wide variety of articles that was turned into the lost and found department of the bookstore this year. Among the long list of items were keys, belts, gym-suits, and jackets.

Are students getting healthier?
Records prove that students are either getting healthier or have a new yearning for school. Checking the attendance, Mrs. Ruth Heeter finds that the percentage of attendance, 96.7, is considerably higher than last year's 95.5.

1/3 of the students get up at 7:00.
Most of the students are out of bed and gulping down a rather skimpy breakfast by 7:00. While only 32.4 per cent of the senior boys prepare their own breakfasts, 48.8 per cent of the sophomore girls make their own toast before dashing for the bus.

Bargmeyer, getting his semi-monthly short cut, has his crop of hair trimmed to about an inch in front and a fourth of an inch in back. The butch or crew hair cut is worn by 18.59 per cent, or nearly 1/5 of the boys in school.

Looking to a Bright Future

An important change will be effected during the summer of 1950 in the transferring of the superintendent's office to the top floor of the new city administration building. This move was recommended by the state inspectors to provide needed office space.

Dr. John J. Young, Superintendent of Schools, acts as the technical advisor to the Board of Trustees. By advance planning of next year's curriculum, personnel changes, and equipment installation, he insures a school organization which functions efficiently.

Dr. Young takes an active part in community affairs as a leader in the Great Books movement, a speaker of the P. T. A. study groups, and a Kiwanian. Through his connections with community affairs, Dr. Young feels that he has made as many friends here in two years as he made during twenty years in Rocky River, Ohio.

Determining School Policies

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES, the legislative branch of the school city, determines school policies and administers tax money. In August, because of public pressure, the mayor and city council increased the number of members from three to five. The members of the Board are (seated) Mr. A. E. Burgh; Dr. C. O. Joest; Mrs. Vivian Garlit, secretary; (standing) Mr. C. A. Jennings, president; and Mr. F. J. Hums, treasurer.

RUSSELL R. MYERS
Principal

Maintaining High Standards

Surrounded by the bustle of the everyday activities of office personnel, Principal Russell R. Myers solves such problems as the budget, curriculum, and the lack of seating capacity in the gym. This executive also is directly responsible for the success and fine reputation of Mishawaka High School, one of the Indiana schools to receive the highest rating by the North Central Association. In order to correlate the work of the disciplinarians, teachers, book store manager, counselors, and maintenance staff, Mr. Myers puts in many overtime hours. With his enthusiastic support, the student council participates in school government to prepare teenagers for citizenship in their later life.

Since 1939 Mr. Myers has served as principal, except for a three-year period in the Navy. Before coming to Mishawaka he held a similar position at East Chicago Roosevelt High School.

Fulfilling Essential Positions

The assistants to the administrators carry out the policies of the principal and superintendent. As Dean of Girls, Miss Lynetta Wilson takes a genuine interest in the girls and helps them with problems from school adjustments to family relations. When Mr. Frank Chapman was promoted to a new position, Principal of Battell School, Mr. Walter Johnson, with his crew haircut and friendly smile, stepped into the office as Acting Assistant Principal and Dean of Boys. Assistant Superintendent, Gerald Neff, controls the school city's financial affairs, the school activities funds, and payroll.

65 per cent of the faculty were born in Indiana

Although Cyrano could not persuade the faculty to divulge their heights, weights, and ages, he did uncover some vital facts about those who educate the local teenagers.

The selection of a place to live confronts the entire teaching staff, not only the 52.8 per cent that are married. During the school year 49 per cent live in houses, 42 per cent in apartments, and 9 per cent in rooms. To solve the problem of transportation peculiar to this modern era, 83 per cent of the faculty own automobiles, which, regardless of their condition, serve the purpose.

This year each teacher met an average of 120 students daily. It is no wonder that 54.7 per cent wear glasses to aid them in detecting the high school students' many misdemeanors.

During the vacation period, 40.4 per cent of the faculty travel to the four corners of the U. S.; some even reach Canada and Mexico. Those who remain at home engage in their favorite sports, raise gardens, and repair their homes. Some continue their educations, while others just rest.

Chiselers, gripers, and show-offs capture the top spot among the pet peeves of the faculty. People who stick gum under desks also irritate teachers. Many are irked by alarm clocks, telephones and radios, as well as tardiness, profanity and laziness.

INTERESTING HOBBIES, from craft work to collections, consume the few leisure hours of many of the teachers. Mrs. Kohler is using a few spare moments to work on a Christmas scarf, while Miss Heimbach is just knitting for pleasure. These and other lengthy projects suffer from the lack of spare time. Although craftwork appeals to many teachers, photography has a lure for some of the more patient ones.

MISS DUNN, like most teachers, participates in several professional organizations. As the State Bulletin Editor of the A.A.U.W., she compiles Indiana's 5,000 member mailing list. Mishawaka teachers belong to an average of 4.9 professional clubs, church organizations, and civic groups.

ONE THIRD of the teachers are married and have an average of 1.78 children. If David Baker, son of Ward Baker, believes that having a teacher parent is a disadvantage, he doesn't express his views publicly. At school as at home, father and son discuss son's shenanigans in father's World History class.

Detective or Dentist? General course or college preparatory? These are only two of the many important decisions to be made by seniors planning their last year's work. Margaret Britt, faced with the weighty problem of getting into a friend's typing class, consults head sponsor Mr. Merle Blue.

Dan Nesbitt's question, "Which end is up?" is a typical reaction of the physics student toward his equipment, although Sally Fritz and Carl Mahler show more confidence. M.H.S. offers a complete three year science course to the five seniors who plan to become scientists.

Fountain Pen may not work when signing Miskodeeds, and the mortarboard may feel odd, but it's a wonderful day for seniors like Denny Weber, Rose La Cava, and Dick Bidlack. Cap and Gown Day didn't mean the end of classes for 43 per cent of the graduating class who plan on future education.

Seniors Shun Work Choose Relaxation

One Coke flavored with the latest scandal makes a relaxing drink after a long day in school for Elizabeth Schmidt, Dolores Giacomini, and Pat Thompson. Even for privileged seniors the school day means four classes, since 70 per cent of upperclassmen carry a full load of subjects.

Homework—the kind teachers don't assign in class! Scorning an evening at the movies because of a lack of funds, Pat Tassell and Bob Clark decide to entertain themselves. Pat and Bob are part of the 37 per cent of the senior class who have taken the plunge and now go steady, averaging seven dates a month.

"You only live once," thinks Betty Pekari as she plans to spend two weeks' salary on a prom dress. Other senior girls, like admiring friend Sue Santuro, spend an average of $32 on clothes for the Prom. After an evening of dancing and a party, however, they can look back on the most important social event of the year.

Class of 1951 Presses Hard on Heels of Seniors

Juniors like school; at least, 91 per cent indicated they attended by choice and not because they were compelled by the law or their parents. When asked what subject they enjoyed most, 16 per cent answered chemistry, and 14 per cent chose English. Although school work took up most of a third year student's time, 50 per cent of them earned wages as babysitters, filling station attendants, and stock boys. They earned an average of $12.35 a week for their efforts. Another 39 per cent received regular allowances; the remainder depended on pop's generosity when the need arose. Juniors spent, on the average, $4.80 a week.

Becoming more interested in social life, the Class of 1951 attended plays, dances, club meetings, and sports events. Most of the class, 75.8 per cent, had seen a track meet, but 55 per cent preferred to see a basketball game. Social minded juniors dated an average of 5.5 times a month; 60 per cent jived or at least stood at the edge of the floor at one or more school dances. Other outside activities from scouting and 4-H, to church groups and Rainbow filled in their social calendars. Juniors averaged 1.5 memberships in outside clubs.

At mid-semester, juniors in the library, 111, 122, 124, and most of 130 puffed out their chests and ousted the seniors from 103 to make room for the influx of freshmen.

Sophomores Are Members of 1.49 Out-of-School Clubs

In their two years at M. H. S., the sophomores learned that the halls must be quiet during lunch hour and that going to lockers is permitted only between classes.

The boy meets girl problem became more acute. Hair styles and clothes acquired a touch of individuality but still conformed to the prevailing pattern. Dances proved to be more fun than parlor games, and yearnings to be a fireman were discarded for aspirations to the life of a sports writer.

When asked what subject they would prefer, 8 per cent favored biology while 5 per cent chose the shops. In order for these ambitious second-year students to buy candy for their dates, and an after-game coke, 22 were babysitters, and 19 peddled or walked through all kinds of weather delivering papers.

In the fall of 1949 over 500 freshmen swarmed into high school; in January 133 more swelled the numbers. With over one-third of the school first year students, they could not help but be noticeable. Bursting with ideas and enthusiasm (86 per cent came because they wanted to) these students coaxed, persuaded, or enticed their parents to attend a successful freshmen parents' night. Room 236 won free tickets for the Fort Wayne (North Side or South Side) games by having the highest percentage of parents there, 37½ per cent.

Freshmen favorites of the four required subjects were drafting and citizenship, with the former ranking highest. To finance current expenses, 42 per cent did odd jobs evenings and week-ends. An industrious 61 babysat, 29 did housework; and 26, including two girls, had paper routes. The average cash earned per week was $10.99.

The freshman sighed to find that his day was not long enough to include studies and work, as well as fun.

Mr. Robert Rust of The Culver Citizen Press,
Mr. E. W. Kase of The S. K. Smith Company,

wish to express their appreciation to all these people
for invaluable assistance.
